

Reflex[®] Visco

The Reflex[®] Visco is a high visibility thermal lined nitrile coated glove, ideal for wet and oily applications. The Reflex[®] brand name is synonymous with quality and high performance, and the Reflex[®] Visco is no exception. The three-quarter nitrile coating is designed to give maximum grip in wet and oily conditions providing the user with assured handling at all times. Good abrasion and tear resistance performance makes the glove highly durable and long lasting. The high visibility thermal liner offers exceptional warmth and comfort, which together with the anatomical shape enables extended wear with minimal hand fatigue.
